

FOR IMMEDIATE USE: YANGON JULY 06, 2017

MAX ENERGY MYANMAR AND SHELL SIGN RETAIL BRAND LICENSE AGREEMENT

Max Energy Company Limited and Shell Brands International AG are pleased to announce they have entered into a licence agreement that will introduce Shell branded retail sites in Myanmar. The sites will be owned and operated by Max Energy Myanmar.

The aim is to achieve a nationwide rollout of Shell branded retail sites in the next three years. These sites will adhere to the highest standards in service, quality fuels and values of the Shell brand.

Max will have all its fuel needs supplied by Shell International Eastern Trading Company (SIETCO), helping ensure security of supply and product quality.

Customers in Myanmar will be able to buy SHELL V-POWER, which contains 99% of the same types of compounds found in the SHELL V-POWER race fuel being used by Scuderia Ferrari in the 2017 FIA Formula One World Championship.

U Zaw Zaw, Chairman, Max Myanmar Holding Co Ltd, said: "I am proud that we have entered into this agreement with Shell, the largest fuels retailer in the world. This will benefit Myanmar by raising the quality and standard of fuels and providing an unrivalled customer service and experience for people."

Yasuko Yoshida, Country Chair Shell Myanmar said: "I am excited and proud that we are introducing Shell branded retail sites into Myanmar. This long-term agreement with Max Energy will provide the people of Myanmar with Shell's high quality fuels and lubricants, excellent customer service and a range of convenience products and services designed to meet the needs of busy motorists and other customers. We are pleased to be able to work with Max Myanmar Group, a conglomerate with strong corporate governance that is committed to transparency and accountability. I hope our customers will enjoy the experience of visiting a Shell branded petrol station."

Shell is the biggest single branded retailer and number one fuels retailer in the world with 43,000 sites in close to 80 countries serving 30 million customers every day. Opening new Shell branded sites in Myanmar is part of a wider strategy to bring Shell quality fuels and services to more people around the world and by partnering with strong local companies like Max Energy in Myanmar.

ENDS

ENQUIRIES:

TODAY Ogilvy Public Relations: Joshua Doi Aung
(joshua.doiaung@todayogilvy.com, +95 9-42 101 2974)

Notes to Editors:

- Shell is an integrated energy company that aims to meet the world's growing demand for energy in ways that are economically, environmentally and socially responsible. Our operations are divided into four businesses: Upstream, Integrated Gas and New Energies, Downstream, and Projects & Technology. Shell Downstream is active in Myanmar through Shell Lubricants, Shell Trading, Retail Brand Licensing and Shell Bitumen. For more information about Shell in Myanmar please visit www.shell.com/myanmar
- Max Energy Company Limited was incorporated in 2010 as one of the strategic business units (SBU) of Max Myanmar Group of Companies. Max Energy has the ownership of 31 Filling Stations throughout Myanmar with more than 800 employees. Their stations are situated at the most favourable locations for the convenience of customers. These locations include Nay Pyi Taw (Capital City), Yangon (Commercial City), Mandalay, Ayeyarwaddy, Bago and Mon State. For more information about Max Energy please visit <https://maxenergy.com.mm/aboutus>

Royal Dutch Shell plc

Royal Dutch Shell plc is incorporated in England and Wales, has its headquarters in The Hague and is listed on the London, Amsterdam, and New York stock exchanges. Shell companies have operations in more than 70 countries and territories with businesses including oil and gas exploration and production; production and marketing of liquefied natural gas and gas to liquids; manufacturing, marketing and shipping of oil products and chemicals and renewable energy projects. For further information, visit www.shell.com.

Cautionary note

The companies in which Royal Dutch Shell plc directly and indirectly owns investments are separate legal entities. In this release "Shell", "Shell group" and "Royal Dutch Shell" are sometimes used for convenience where references are made to Royal Dutch Shell plc and its subsidiaries in general. Likewise, the words "we", "us" and "our" are also used to refer to subsidiaries in general or to those who work for them. These expressions are also used where no useful purpose is served by identifying the particular company or companies. "Subsidiaries", "Shell subsidiaries" and "Shell companies" as used in this release refer to companies over which Royal Dutch Shell plc either directly or indirectly has control. Entities and unincorporated arrangements over which Shell has joint control are generally referred to as "joint ventures" and "joint operations" respectively. Entities over which Shell has significant influence but neither control nor joint control are referred to as "associates". The term "Shell interest" is used for convenience to indicate the direct and/or indirect ownership interest held by Shell in a venture, partnership or company, after exclusion of all third-party interest.

This release contains forward-looking statements concerning the financial condition, results of operations and businesses of Royal Dutch Shell. All statements other than statements of historical fact are, or may be deemed to be, forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are statements of future expectations that are based on management's current expectations and assumptions and involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results, performance or events to differ materially from those expressed or implied in these statements. Forward-looking statements include, among other things, statements concerning the potential exposure of Royal Dutch Shell to market risks and statements expressing management's expectations, beliefs, estimates, forecasts, projections and assumptions. These forward-looking statements are identified by their use of terms and phrases such as "anticipate", "believe", "could", "estimate", "expect", "goals", "intend", "may", "objectives", "outlook", "plan", "probably", "project", "risks", "schedule", "seek", "should", "target", "will" and similar terms and phrases. There are a number of factors that could affect the future operations of Royal Dutch Shell and could cause those results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements included in this release, including (without limitation): (a) price fluctuations in crude oil and natural gas; (b) changes in demand for Shell's products; (c) currency fluctuations; (d) drilling and production results; (e) reserves estimates; (f) loss of market share and industry competition; (g) environmental and physical risks; (h) risks associated with the identification of suitable potential acquisition properties and targets, and successful negotiation and completion of such transactions; (i) the risk of doing business in developing countries and countries subject to international sanctions; (j) legislative, fiscal and regulatory developments including regulatory measures addressing climate change; (k) economic and financial market conditions in various countries and regions; (l) political risks, including the risks of expropriation and renegotiation of the terms of contracts with governmental entities, delays or advancements in the approval of projects and delays in the reimbursement for shared costs; and (m) changes in trading conditions. All forward-looking statements contained in this release are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this section. Readers should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. Additional risk factors that may affect future results are contained in Royal Dutch Shell's 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2015 (available at www.shell.com/investor and www.sec.gov). These risk factors also expressly qualify all forward looking statements contained in this release and should be considered by the reader. Each forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date of this release, February 20, 2017. Neither Royal Dutch Shell plc nor any of its subsidiaries undertake any obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement as a result of new information, future events or other information. In light of these risks, results could differ materially from those stated, implied or inferred from the forward-looking statements contained in this release.

We may have used certain terms, such as resources, in this release that United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) strictly prohibits us from including in our filings with the SEC. U.S. Investors are urged to consider closely the disclosure in our Form 20-F, File No 1-32575, available on the SEC website www.sec.gov.